

the Lucy Cavendish Singers

Director: Katharina Megli

Patron: Baroness Perry of Southwark

"There are worlds beyond politics. Lucy Cavendish Singers – delirious aural bliss!" Andrew Marr

The Lucy Cavendish Singers capture the hearts and minds of audiences with their vibrant performances and imaginative programmes. Whether singing jazz or folk, medieval plainsong or classical, show tunes or opera, the Singers' performances are always compelling – with audiences moved both to tears and to laughter.

"You were superb... two hours after you left the room the audience was still talking about your performance." Julian Landy, Charity Dinner, Fitzwilliam College

The choir regularly provides musical entertainment for private functions including conference dinners, banquets, receptions and weddings. The group offers a highly-varied repertoire and range of styles from which the Director creates programmes to suit the occasion.

"The Lucy Cavendish Singers were fabulous as always. Thank you for providing a great atmosphere for the wedding ceremony." Lottie Armes, Conference and Dining Office Performing entirely from memory, the Singers bring enormous commitment and spontaneity to their music. Most full-choir pieces are sung unaccompanied, while for solos and small group numbers the Singers may be joined by one or more musicians. Each performance is woven into a seamless whole, creating a uniquely enjoyable experience for the audience. Samples of the Singers' wide-ranging repertoire are shown overleaf.

"Thank you to you for such an incredible performance. It made our evening just perfect.." Monica Relano Pastor, retirement dinner, King's College
